School Nutrition Professionals should:

- Work 6 feet apart from staff and students.
- Wear a face covering.
- Wash hands before meal service, between classes/groups, and after service.
- Wear disposable gloves - change between classes/groups or when contaminated.
- Sanitize tables, trays, or carts between each class interaction.
- Remove unnecessary signage to help people read the most important information.
- Provide meal container(s) and beverage(s) without customer contact.
- Keep the service line moving to prevent customers from gathering.
- Reduce maximum occupancy of the café.
- Post decals and/or signs to remind students and staff to stay 6 feet apart.
- Prevent students from directly touching serving utensils, food items, or beverages during meal service.
- Use a contactless point of service (POS) system avoiding unnecessary cross contact between staff and other students.
- Eliminate the use of share tables.
